Fourth Crash Victim Near Death Today

HOSPITAL AIDES CALL CONDITION OF WELLS 'POOR'

Wichita Falls, Tex., Man Hit By Car While Crossing Ashland Road Intersection.

COUNTY TOLL REACHES 9

List of Fatalities Boosted by Death of Mansfielder Who Was Struck by Train.

Fourth victim of a series of pre-holiday accidents in the Mansfield area lay near death in the General hospital today. He is Jay C. Wells, 23, of Wichita Falls, Texas, who was struck by an automobile while crossing Ashland road at East Fourth street yesterday noon. Hospital attendants, who said he was still unconscious this afternoon, described his condition as "poor". Wells, an employee of the Dodsons World's Fair shows, sustained a fractured skull, police said, when he was hit by a car driven by Philip A. Bernard, Niles.

Bernard told officers that the man walked from in front of an empty car into the path of his machine. He said he swerved to the left in an attempt to avoid hitting him.

Four youths, passengers in the car with Bernard, said he was driving about 25 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Funeral services for Mrs. Helen Johnson, 46, of Mansfield, who was instantly killed yesterday when a Big Four passenger train struck the automobile she was driving at Shiloh will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Wapner funeral home. Rev. H. E. Topp, pastor of the Grace Gospel church, will officiate. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Mrs. Johnson was killed and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Duda, 70, of 53 Myers avenue, was bruised when the train hit the car as it

DEFEND MALAYA

British Speed Preparations In Straits Settlements.

SINGAPORE.—(AP)—British forces hurriedly strengthened defenses in Malaya today, especially here and on the island of Penang, commanding both entrances to the straits of Malacca.

Barbed wire was strung along the beaches and trees and fences were torn down around swimming pools to give a clear line of fire.

A communique said the measures were taken "in view of the general situation in the Far East," but that they were normal military precautions and "should not be interpreted as indicating any immediate danger."

The Russians Know Something About a Blitzkrieg, Too

With the same devastating speed so successfully employed by Germany in her war with the Allies, Russia has taken lightning possession of valuable Rumanian territories. According to military experts, aside from this thrust being near-rumors to Rumania, it is also a blow to Germany since it gives Russia a commanding position over the Black sea to the mouth of the Danube, which comprises one of Germany's vital lifelines. The map, lower left, shows the Balkan area affected by Russia's territorial ambitions. The rapid occupation of the Rumanian territories was accompanied by the use of heavy air transports carrying bicycle troops, upper left, and seven-ton tanks slung under the plane's fuselage, right. This was the first demonstration of tanks being carried by planes to the scene of action, and according to reports, these "surprise" tanks were able to paralyze defending Rumanian garrisons.

OPPOSITION TO TAX PREDICTED

Senator Says Excess Profit Levy on Individuals Being Fought.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON — Considerable opposition to an excess profits tax on individuals, as recommended by President Roosevelt, was predicted today by Senator George (D-Ga.), who said that a similar levy on corporations probably would be enacted.

In line with this comment was a statement from Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee that such a tax on individuals "didn't work so well" during the world war and was dropped after a year.

To help finance the defense program, Mr. Roosevelt asked yesterday for "a steeply graduated excess profits tax, to be applied to all individuals and all corporate organizations without discrimination."

"It is our duty to see that the burden is equitably distributed according to ability to pay so that a few do not gain from the sacrifices of the many," he added.

Mr. Roosevelt did not propose a formula, but Rep. Rayburn of Texas, house Democratic leader, said after a White House conference.

Mayor Urges National Unity In Proclamation

Sees July Fourth as Day for Rededication to Defense of Earliest American Ideals.

Mayor William J. Locke today called on Mansfielders to observe the Fourth of July holiday with more than usual thought and respect this year in view of the distress throughout the world.

In a proclamation issued today, the mayor urged a "rededication" of Independence day in the preservation of national unity.

His proclamation said:

"INDEPENDENCE DAY has greater significance this year than ever before. Always an occasion of rejoicing, it has become a festival of thanksgiving, a call to rededication, a symbol of hope.

"For today, war and tyranny have overwhelmed many foreign nations; disloyal elements within our borders undermine national unity by fomenting racial hatred and religious bigotry; anti-democratic forces seek to abrogate civil, political and economic liberties; distasteful abroad and traitors at home assail the very ideals of freedom and equality on which this nation was founded.

"These ideals and the institutions derived from them, however, are no less precious to the American people today than in 1776. They are our treasured heritage, our most sacred trust. They still

Willard's Miss Molly 100 Today Even If She Denies It

WILLARD — When is a woman too old to fib about her age? Ask Miss Molly Graham who is 100 years old today.

Because Miss Molly is really hitting the century mark today, but if you ask her, she will maintain vehemently that she is only 97, and who should be questioning a lady's statement on her age?

Miss Molly, who was a dress-maker in this town for more than 50 years, began changing her age 20 years ago—and all because she wanted to live to be a hundred and thought that she could fool Old Man Time into giving her a few additional years by kidding him about her age.

When she was actually 36, she began to edge back a little on the years—not, mind you, to fool her friends, who knew her age, but to fool Old Man Time—and

STIMSON TELLS DEFENSE VIEWS

Question by Senate Group On Qualifications For Cabinet Post.

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The senate military affairs committee approved today President Roosevelt's nomination of Henry L. Stimson to be secretary of war.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON — Henry L. Stimson, President Roosevelt's nominee for secretary of war, told the senate military committee today he did not believe "that we shall be safe from invasion if we sit down and wait for the enemy to come to our shores."

Stimson, a Republican, testified regarding his qualifications for the war secretaryship while the senate naval committee started a hearing on the selection of Frank Knox, 1936 Republican vice presidential nominee, to be secretary of the navy.

Stimson, who was secretary of state in the Hoover administration and secretary of war under President Taft, told the military group that "we are faced with an unprecedented peril."

He recommended compulsory military training as one means of (Continued on Page 16, Col. 5)

TEXARKANA, Tex.—(AP)—Fast receding floods today left 500 persons homeless today in the twin cities of Texarkana, Tex., and Texarkana, Ark. The Red Cross appealed for clothing to give many families who abandoned their personal possessions when the "flash flood" swept through their homes almost without warning.

It was the second flood in two days caused by cloudbursts in Texas. Seven persons were drowned Sunday when the Lavaca river swept through Hallsville, Tex., and a youth was swept away in raging Little river near Temple, Tex.

No casualties were reported in the Texarkanas, but there was a temporary water shortage.

Residential sections of the cities were flooded when six inches of rain in 12 hours, poured over their banks.

He was declared sane yesterday after a hearing before Judge Neal L. Lora. Cavell was admitted to the hospital Dec. 27, 1935.

He said he did not remember shooting Peter Rabenalt, his companion, in the leg with a shotgun.

Rabenalt died of gangrene infection from the wound. Cavell was tried for manslaughter and found not guilty by reason of insanity.

British Fear Hitler Plans Invasion Soon

Axis Powers Succeed in Quieting War Menace in Balkans, Apply Pressure On Hungary And Bulgaria to Halt Rumanian Outburst

(By United Press)
Germany and Italy appeared today to be succeeding in their effort to prevent a general Balkan outburst for the moment, but tension was rising in the Far East and in Britain fears increased that the Germans might attempt to seize Ireland.

Reports from all Balkan capitals were calmer today than for several days past. Signs indicated the Axis powers had applied pressure on both Hungary and Bulgaria to avert forcible dismemberment of Rumania at this time.

In Bucharest it was believed widely that Rumania had placed herself under protection of Germany and tension relaxed in belief that Berlin desires Balkan peace while preparing for the long-awaited blitzkrieg against the British Isles.

British residents were preparing to leave Rumania in the wake of the country's swing into the German orbit. Intense police precautions were taken to insure internal order.

The expected general mobilization of Hungary was not ordered. After a visit of the German Minister Otto von Erdmannsdorff to Hungarian Foreign Minister Count Stephan Csaky tension seemed to be easing and it was indicated Hungary would not utilize week-end border incidents between Hungarian and Rumanian frontier guards as a cause for immediate military action.

The Italian attitude was that the Balkan crisis was fast subsiding and that seemed to hold good for her Axis partner, Germany, also.

The possibility that Soviet Russia may yet make proposals to Turkey concerning the Aegean and Black seas and control of the Dardanelles was discussed in Ankara, but it was said that no Russian demands have been advanced yet.

A sword-rattling speech was made in the Hungarian chamber of deputies today by Joseph Koezi Horvath, Christian Socialist deputy, who charged the Rumanians were preparing to slaughter Hungarians in Transylvania.

But while the Balkan situation was quieting that in the Far East was growing more disturbed. The announcement in Tokyo that Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, member of the supreme war council, would travel through the South seas, visiting Davao, in the Philippines and Menado, in the Dutch East Indies, to "inquire after the health" of Japanese residents sent new tremors through the war jittery region.

The British were strengthening defenses in Malaya, particularly at the key naval base of Singapore and on Penang island. And the likelihood that the British garrison at Shanghai would be transferred to Hong Kong was suggested.

Hong Kong is now being evacuated of women and children. The Shanghai troops would reinforce substantial British forces now at Hong Kong. Hong Kong reported that 2,000 Japanese troops at Shumchun, a railroad town opposite Hong Kong, appeared to be preparing to establish an inland blockade along the colony's border.

WORRIED: Hitler Believed Embarrassed By Red Invasion

(By JOSEPH H. BAIRD
(INS Staff Correspondent))

WASHINGTON.—A belief that Joseph Stalin, wily Georgian who sits in Moscow's Kremlin, is giving Fuehrer Adolf Hitler more to worry about than he cares publicly to admit was held today in extremely well-informed diplomatic quarters.

More bluntly stated, Washington finds reason to believe that Soviet Russia's push into Rumania is not merely an opportunistic territorial grab, but also—perhaps primarily—a strategic move to square itself for combat with Germany. The Red army now is able to execute a flanking movement from south of the reach, co-ordinated with an advance to the southwest from the tip of Lithuania.

Observers do not believe that Russia wants to fight Germany. But, it can now be revealed, as long as 19 days ago Washington heard reports that the reich might strike at the Soviet Union, even before invading Great Britain. If such reports reached America, they surely fell upon the sensitive ears of Stalin's widespread secret service. Preparedness measures would have been obviously indicated to the ruler of Russia.

With the Red army now poised in both Bessarabia and Lithuania, it is in a position to execute an effective pincer movement, if German forces should be thrown through Poland in a frontal attack upon Soviet Russia.

According to information received, Hitler was convinced that he could dispose of both Russia and Britain before the snows of winter brought military activity to a standstill. Nazi military advisors, it was understood, had not yet decided which to attack first.

As Russia has no natural geographical defenses, it is a rolling open plain from its European border to the Urals, it was believed that a hard-hitting German army of 1,500,000 men could push through to Moscow within a few weeks and, having established control there, easily swing south to (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Report United States Leads World In Naval Tonnage

BUILDS AT TOP SPEED TOWARD 2-OCEAN FLEET

Contracts Closed For New Warships In Defense
Preparations.

WASHINGTON — Official figures indicated today that the United States navy, building at top speed toward "two-ocean" strength, already has become the world's largest both in number of ships and in total tonnage.

Not counting the $500,000,000 of new warships ordered by the navy yesterday and nearly 100 other vessels under construction, Uncle Sam has 395 completed combat ships of 1,327,320 tons.

Latest available figures on the British navy give its strength on June 30 as 313 ships of 1,277,189 tons. These figures are admittedly inexact, but they take into consideration the best information obtainable on losses suffered in Europe's war.

Whether the United States or the British fleet is actually the strongest is a matter of conjecture. That depends on many factors—the age of ships, their design, and capabilities of the crews, among others.

The $500,000,000 new warship order was the biggest in navy history. It covered 11 cruisers, 20 destroyers, 13 submarines and a large seaplane tender. The contracts were closed without competitive bidding, as authorized by the new speed-up legislation which President Roosevelt signed just two hours earlier.

In rating the existing United States navy the world's largest, naval experts also estimated that the present fleet, plus units now ordered or appropriated for, would give this country a navy equal to any now being built. They include not only Britain's and Japan's, but also the fleet that might be formed by a coalition of German, Italian and French sea strength.

The United States has 533 ships of 2,231,105 tons built, building, under contract or appropriated for.

The 533-ship navy which is in sight for this country does not include any of the craft contemplated in a further 70 per cent $4,000,000,000 expansion program, which has been recommended by the navy high command and approved by the house.

Seventy Youths Inaugurate Soil Saving Program

Nearly 70 youths from the new CCC camp southeast of Mansfield and Camp Mohican in the Mohican state park near Londonville today had started soil conservation work on nine farms in southern Richland county.

S. E. Dolle, superintendent of the Mansfield camp, said about 100 more youths would be put to work on 20 other farms in this area within a few weeks.

The conservation work will include digging diversion ditches, building fences and re-arranging farm fields to halt soil erosion and enable farmers to get the most from their land.

The work, being done by agreement with farmers, was started on the farm of Harvey Snyder in Worthington township.

Other farms where work was in progress are those of Thomas McBride, Washington township; John Koehne, Perry township; Earl Ward, Worthington township; W. L. Swank, Jefferson township; John Long, Worthington township; Ira George, Worthington township; Herman Sauder, Washington township; and M. L. Fisher, Jefferson township.

British Admit Heavy Ship Loss In Week

DAILY SCRAPBOOK—

By R. J. Scott

If you happened to see Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of First Presbyterian church, down town during the past week, wearing a rain coat that was six sizes too large for him, don't get the impression that he buys his clothes that way. Rev. Roller left his own raincoat in a restaurant in another city where he went to attend a convention. After he returned home he wrote the proprietor of the restaurant, describing his raincoat as to size and color, and asked that it be returned. Within a few days he received a raincoat, similar to those police officers wear. It came almost to the floor on the Mansfield minister and the sleeves were four inches longer than his finger tips. But he wore it down town in an emergency before sending it back to the restaurant.

Not to be outdone by the more elaborate plans for a Fourth of July celebration being made by the Mansfield Public parks association, the younger set on Glenwood boulevard has planned its own parade with appropriately decorated vehicles, waving flags and tooting horns. All the children on the street, able to walk or operate a kiddie car, have been invited to meet at the C. C. Warner home, 44 Glenwood boulevard, at 11 a. m. The parade will begin there proceeding to Park avenue, then taking the east side of the street to Maple, and returning on the west side.

Mansfield newspapermen can vouch for the fact that if you travel with a circus—or with the Dodson's World's Fair shows, at least—you'll fare well when it comes mealtime on the lot. A delegation of News-Journal staff members ate steak dinners at the shows' tent commissary last night and all agreed the steaks couldn't have been done to a better turn by the best chefs in the country.

Three Mansfielders, who in former years have confined their nautical workouts mostly to Lake Erie, will get a taste of real salt spray in a few days. For M. Dale Ward, Fred Wolf, and Paul Tappan are leaving tomorrow for South Boothby, Maine, where Tappan keeps a sailboat. All in all, the trio plans to spend from 10 days to two weeks sailing the briny blue. D. O. Meese who was to have gone with them had to call off his trip at the last moment because of his mother's illness.

Galion Man Faces Court on Drunk Driving Charge.

Brought before Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston Monday afternoon on a charge of driving while intoxicated, Everett Gray, 29, of R. D. 1, Galion, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail.

The court also suspended Gray's driving rights for one year when Gray pleaded guilty to the charge which was filed by state highway patrolmen.

Patrolmen arrested Gray Saturday night on route 42 at Lexington. The case was the first action on a traffic violation taken before Judge Huston in several months. Patrolmen said after the hearing that they "intend to pass the business around by taking the traffic cases to all the courts."

Waiting Officers Nab Two Young Robbers Fleeing
Scene of Crime.

(By Associated Press)
NEW CUMBERLAND, W. Va. — Captured as they fled from a shoe store after a $86 holdup—and landed right in the hands of waiting officers—two 19-year-old youths from Detroit were held on charges of armed robbery today. They were booked as Stanley W. Walchak and Charles Dixon. Walchak said he had been visiting his father in Rosser, Pa.

Sheriff Herbert Traubert of Wellsburg said the pair admitted holding up Wendell Westlake, 22, of Independence, Pa., last night after he had given them a ride. The sheriff said they tied Westlake to a tree and took his car.

Deputies in Weirton, picking up the sheriff's broadcast description of the missing machine, spotted it parked in front of the shoe store. The two youths dashed out of the store with the proprietor, A. Herman, following and shouting "it's a holdup!" The officers arrested the youths and removed them to the Hancock county jail at New Cumberland.

Herman, who signed the complaint against the boys, said they held him up at gunpoint and tied his hands.

As they approached the scene, the reeling celebrants blithely ignored badges and pistols and signaled to hitch-hike a ride with the constables. They were given a ride to jail, and everybody was happy.

LIGHT SAYS U. S. ARMY LACKS AMMUNITION FOR DAY'S BATTLE

OTTAWA, O. — (AP) — Recent military maneuvers in Louisiana convinced Gilson D. Light, Ohio adjutant general, that the United States is woefully unprepared to defend herself against invasion. Decrying concealment of the truth from the American people, General Light told a Kiwanis club meeting here last night that the "army does not have enough ammunition for one day's firing" and that the shortage of anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns was disgraceful in the largest manufacturing nation in the world.

"I can't understand why the people are not told of the existing condition," he asserted. "If they had any way of contacting German officials they could find out easily enough because the German officials know the situation here."

"We mustn't say we won't be attacked," he continued. "I think it is in the book 'Our men will fight, but they must have equipment to fight with.'"

Describing the German army as the "greatest military machine the world has ever known," General Light predicted that the British Isles would be "blown to atoms" within the next week or 10 days.

He said the attack on Britain was delayed momentarily while the Germans collected sufficient ammunition and boats, but when the movement is started, England "will have no advance notice of it."

Speaking of the maneuvers of the third army on the Texas-Louisiana border, General Light said, "I was surprised at the lack of equipment and training of our regular army."

Laff-a-Day

SAY 192,911 TONS SUNK BY ENEMY ATTACK

Italian Submarines Busy In Mediterranean and at Bay of Biscay.

(By United Press)

LONDON — The admiralty said today that in one week German and Italian attacks had sunk 192,911 tons—the greatest total of the war—of British, Allied and neutral shipping, but naval sources said the increase in the number of U-boats in action "is not alarming."

For the first time it was admitted that Italian submarines are taking a toll of British and Allied shipping in the Mediterranean, but experts said the losses there had not been heavy and that 11 Italian submarines had been sunk.

The record toll of shipping losses was for the week ending June 23 and compared with the loss of 852,000 tons of shipping in April, 1917, at the height of unrestricted German U-boat warfare which threatened British supply lines.

One important factor in the shipping losses for the week ending June 23 was that the evacuation of British forces from France was then in progress and losses obviously were increased as a result of vessels within easy range of German airplanes.

Naval experts who said the increased number of U-boats in action was not cause for alarm understood that they had been operating chiefly along the western approaches to the Bay of Biscay.

At least some of the U-boats must have been based at occupied French ports, it was said.

The admiralty pointed out that, despite the heavy losses in that week, the actual tonnage position of Britain was better at present than it was 10 months ago, due to new construction, capture of enemy ships and transfers from other flags. German merchant losses up to June 30, it was stated, were about 857,000 tons and Italian losses 228,000 tons. The British losses in recent weeks have been steady but not as high as during the week ending June 23.

ASHLAND — Dr. Earl Grover, 46, Ashland physician since 1929, died at 7 a. m. in a hospital in Flint, Mich., where he had gone to be treated by his brother, Dr. Harold Grover, in a vain effort to recover his health following a serious operation.

Miss Midnight's Diary.

New Yorkers who flee town in the summer time are always asking New Yorkers who stay, "But what do you DO in New York in the summer?" implying, I suppose, that the sidewalks are taken in from June until September, but this is not the case. There is still the usual width of concrete paving outside the Stork club, rumba music emanates with its usual bongobongo force from the Latin cavern of La Conga, and the waiters at Lindy's still serve cheese cake at any hour you care to drop in.

What can you do in New York? Well, you can lunch at the Japanese Gardens of the Ritz, and watch the fountains and I hope Hampton's hats. . . . You can stroll Fifth Avenue in the window-shopping district. . . . Trek to Central Park and watch Bert Lytell root home the Ruby Foo-baseball team. . . . Curl up in the divans at the Capitol. . . . Skate at Rockefeller Center. . . . Scare yourself at the newsreels, and wonder why you ever fretted because all the shots seemed to be of skiing and fishing. . . . Dine at Twenty-One, where the stage and screen folk sharpen their knives and forks. . . . Dance at the Stork club. . . . Catch George Lloyd doing his impression of a fellow eating a peanut butter sandwich at the Rainbow Room, where I doubt if you can get a peanut butter sandwich. . . . Drink a Zonbie at the Beachcomber. . . . And take a horse and buggy home.

The town is not dead yet. It was certainly not dead Sunday night when Martha Raye took the floor at the Hurricane and tossed herself like an umbrella in a tornado, and finally, when her shoes flew off, she just lived around in her stocking feet. Lionel Stander, the celluloid soap-boper, joined her in a sort of Union Square polka, and the effect was so electrifying that even that delightful innocent, Baby Victor Moore, was impelled to get up and try his terpsichorean fantasy.

The only one who didn't seem to be dancing away from the fiends of fury was George Raft, who certainly can tear off a rumba when he tries.

Another gentleman who was not indulging in the dance was Col. Gonzalo Gomez. He was sitting at a table, minding his own blond, when proprietor Mario approached with another Latin gent. "Col. Gomez," introduced Maria, "meet Col. Gomez." The No. 2 Gomez was Col. Jose Gomez of Nicaragua, who on the surface seemed to have two things in common with the No. 1 Gomez: (a) money; (b) a blond.

Hugh Herbert, the celluloid comedian, was in the Torch Club Monday evening telling a group of comrades about the difficulties he encountered in the screening of "Little Accident," which stars the two-year-old glamor girl, Baby Sandy. It is tough enough for an actor to play with any baby, as everyone knows, just as it is tough to play with a cute dog, a trained seal, or a Barrymore—but Baby Sandy put it on thick. Hugh said he didn't mind her cute tricks, but when she started gurgling and cooing in her scenes, he blew up.

"So I said to the director," Hugh related, "I don't mind her mugging—but she'll have to stop that blubbing!"

But not a one of them had an umbrella. So what happened? Well, the manager of the restaurant just whipped the tablecloths off the tables, presented them to Mr. Miller, Mrs. Porter, Miss Frazier, etc., and they all ran out to taxicabs with their heads, and sped off, looking like a flock of Halloween ghosts.

Later on, at dinner time, Miss Frazier's attractive mother, Mrs. Frederick Watriss, was en tete-a-tete with a gentleman in the same place. The gentleman is the one I understand would like to make Mrs. Watriss a bride.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Maybe they won't be made, but there are more anti-Nazi movies on the Hollywood program. . . . "Secret Army" (Column 5 stuff) has been rumored abandoned but the official schedules still have it—and Brenda Marshall, George Brent, Albert Basserman and Jeffrey Lynn are on schedule to play in it. . . . That's from Warner's, and Columbia's new schedule announces, "We Dare Not Love" (Brian Aherne-Jean Bennett) as "a story of a great romance threatened by the long arm of the Gestapo," together with "I Joined the Band," an "expose film."

None of which sounds like a Hollywood that's knocking under. Search for a new "Footloose Annie" wound up with Marjorie Rambeau at the wheel, Alan Hale doing first mate duties.

It's to be Margaret Sullivan opposite Freddie March in "Flotsam," the story of bonded, wandering fugitives. . . . Frances Farmer stars on show's the girl with Pat O'Brien and John Garfield in the projected "Flowing Gold," oil field yarn. . . . Zanuck is keeping his fingers crossed over Ann Todd, the pretty youngster from "All This, and Heaven Too," now Zanuck-contrasted and considered for some of the ones Stanley Temple co-starred.

What "Destiny" did for Dietrich another "Wild-western" may do for Ray Francis. . . . The Destry director, George Marshall, has Kay, already well-launched on a new popularity by "In Name Only" and "I's a Date," as the telegraph operator heroine in "When the Daltons Rode."

Braves Drop Pitcher's Battle to Green Sox, 4 to 3

Rally In Ninth Falls One Short Of Tying Game

Fremont Hurler Fans 14, Allows Mansfield Club Only Two Hits.

MANSFIELD'S ninth inning rally fell one run short yesterday at Fremont, and the Braves dropped a 4 to 3 decision in a pitcher's battle marred by errors.

Johnny Orphal, Green Sox hurler, let the Braves down with two hits and fanned 14, while the winners got only five hits off Tony Drevick and George Laurila. Hundermer got a double and Woodlin a single for Mansfield.

Mansfield got away to a one run lead in the first inning, but the Sox came back with two markers in the third. The Braves tied it up with a run in the fifth, and Fremont clinched the victory with two runs in the sixth.

Six errors were marked up against Fremont and two against the Braves.

Hundermer, Braves second baseman, banged out a double for one of Mansfield's hits, while Woodlin netted a single for the other one. Besides pitching superlative ball, Orphal poked out a double for the Green Sox to share top hitting honors with Hundermer. Only Hundermer and Orphal managed to get past first base on a base hit.

Not banking too much on the weather, the Braves journey back to Mansfield today to meet the Green Sox before a "Ladies Night" crowd at the Fairground. Manager Dewey Stover said today that he had not made his selection for the mound duties tonight. The game gets under way at 8:30.

While Mansfield was losing to the Green Sox last night, the Lima Pandas were strengthening their hold on the top position. They defeated the Findlay Oilers, 6 to 4. This was their third straight win over the second-place Oilers.

Manager "Lefty" Settlemire allowed the Oilers only eight hits in the contest, as the Lima club gained another full game on the Oilers.

Browns Whip Indians

Score 2 to 1 Victory as Eldon Auker Allows Tribe 8 Hits.

By JUDSON BAILEY (Associated Press Sports Writer) THE St. Louis Browns better not expect any more "help" from their fellow American league clubs.

The team that finished a poor eighth last year and had to be strengthened during the winter and spring by a series of deals following a reported plea for assistance is causing more turmoil than the junior circuit has known in years.

They knocked the Boston Red Sox out of first place ten days ago and last night they undermanned the Cleveland Indians, standing with a 2-1 victory. This shaved the Tribe's first place margin to a single game over the Detroit Tigers.

Eldon Auker, who was one of the hand-me-downs sent to the Browns in the off season, held the Cleveland sluggers to eight hits. The Browns got only seven off Joe Dobson.

The St. Louis Cardinals crowded out the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 with a similar maneuver. Lon Warneke gave seven hits but the Cards were rationed on five.

The Brooklyn Dodgers got seven hits and the Phillies eight, but Brooklyn triumphed 4-3 with the help of a three-run assault on the Philadelphia Athletics.

First Congregational, Methodists Triumph

STILL smarting under a defeat handed them by the First Lutheran club last week, the Congregationalists took out their wrath yesterday on the St. Johns Lutheran softball aggregation, to the tune of 19 to 4.

Although the Congregationalists tallied only two more hits than the Johnstons, the hearty slugging of Locke, Osborne, Weaver, Scott and Nicholas of the Congregationalists proved too much for their opponents. Most of the Saints, however, hit the only home run of the game.

Bush was on the mound for the Congregationalists and Livenessparger took the rubber for the St. Johns club.

In the other Church league game yesterday, the First Methodists walloped the First Presbyterians, 14 to 5. Hazlett took over the mound duties for the Methodists, while Brandt took the slab for the Presbyterians. Hazlett was the winning pitcher and Brandt the loser.

The league-leading First Lutheran club was idle yesterday.

There was no change in the standings as the result of the games last night.

Servis Lands In Golfdom's Hall of Fame

Dayton Star Cops James M. Cox Trophy for Fourth Time; Defeats Carlson.

CLEVELAND —(UPI)— In Ohio's hall of golf fame, the name of Bobby Servis was cut deep into the marble today as the second man to win the coveted Ohio amateur title four times.

The 22-year-old Dayton star tied the all-time record held by the late Harold Weber, Toledo, yesterday by defeating 21-year-old Marshall Carlson, 3 and 2 in the 35-hole championship round of the tournament.

Three times before young Servis received the James M. Cox trophy when the state amateur was over—in 1933, 1936 and 1939. He finished runner up to Johnny Florio, of Columbus, in 1932 and in second spot against Maurice McCarthy Jr., Cincinnati, in 1934.

One of the puzzles among golfing circles this spring was whether Bobby would try to defend his crown. He was seldom seen on a course. He entered no tournaments. He worked a great deal of the time at his father's restaurant.

After much hesitation, Bobby declared that he would defend his laurels in the amateur but intimated that he didn't think he had a chance.

In Marshall Carlson, star of the Toledo University golf team and basketball captain, Servis found an opponent to be reckoned with now and in the future.

Servis was two up at the end of the first nine holes but by the end of the first round, Carlson had reduced his lead to one up. He cut the margin by sinking a 22-foot putt on the 18th hole.

During the afternoon round they were even on the first three holes by Servis lost the fourth on a poor tee shot to even the match.

But husky Bobby recovered immediately and cupped a 12-foot putt for a birdie on number 5. The ace of the Ohio conference and Ohio colleges shot into a trap on the next hole, losing one more to Servis.

Carlson won back the 25th hole with a birdie, reaching the green in two strokes. Bobby got the 27th hole on a beautiful shot which landed five feet from the cup, while Carlson missed the green. The champion went to three up on the next hole when Carlson slammed out of bounds, then shot a birdie two for the following hole. He next three holes were halved.

Servis got his eighth birdie of the day on the next—the 33rd. The short 34th and last hole was halved.

How to Pitch by Bucky Walters Cincinnati Reds Ace

(AP Feature Service)

THE modern baseball pitcher needs more than a fast ball, a glove and a prayer. He's faced with the fact that every pitched ball in the big time today is a duel between a batter who knows a bad ball when he sees it and a pitcher who knows that the batter knows.

Which means that the pitcher must have "stuff"—and lots of it. But the fast ball is still the No. 1 requisite. After a pitcher has it working he must develop a curve, then a change of pace. Special pitching tricks like the screwball or sinker ball come later—after long, long practice.

The three chief types of delivery are overhand, side-arm and underhand. Overhand is most generally used and some good pitchers employ all three. Although every pitcher uses a slightly different grip and a slightly different delivery, there are general pitching fundamentals.

SOME STANDARD DETAILS The ball is usually gripped between the first and second fingers and the thumb. The fast ball is usually thrown with a snap of the wrist. The curve ball, thrown with an outward rotation of the hand and arm, spins out of the hand between the thumb and forefinger. Both deliveries should look alike as much as possible. Wise batters will spot any deviation.

A screwball, or reverse curve, is gripped in much the same manner but is released with an inward rotation of the hand and arm, with the wrist snapped a quarter turn inward. The ball usually breaks down and inward. For a knuckle ball, used as a floater for change of pace, some pitchers put the joints of the index and second finger on the ball. Others use the ends of the same fingers. The ball floats up to the plate, breaking sharply a few feet in front. Many pitchers specialize in this throw and use it very effectively.

Next to throwing effectively, a pitcher's best asset is a retentive memory. By being able to remember a batter's hitting habits and weaknesses the pitcher himself can change many potential base hits to weak grounders or pop flies by "puttin' 'em where the sticker doesn't like 'em."

There's a lot of psychology in pitching, too. Some batters can be worried by slow, deliberate preparation by the hurler. Quick deliveries fool some. And the help of a "signal thief" is invaluable. If one of your teammates is wise to the opposing team's signals he can advise the pitcher when to throw a pitch-out to catch an intended steal.

Felding from the pitching position is not difficult after the pitcher has learned the one cardinal rule: Never get off balance and be ready, at all times, for any kind of a hit ball.

Felding from the pitching position is not difficult after the pitcher has learned the one cardinal rule: Never get off balance and be ready, at all times, for any kind of a hit ball.

There's a lot of psychology in pitching, too. Some batters can be worried by slow, deliberate preparation by the hurler. Quick deliveries fool some. And the help of a "signal thief" is invaluable. If one of your teammates is wise to the opposing team's signals he can advise the pitcher when to throw a pitch-out to catch an intended steal.

Reds Lose To Cards

Derringer Fails on Third Try For 10th as Cincy Loses, 3-2.

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS—The inspired Cardinals, mauled into six defeats by the Reds this season, have suddenly turned to make the going tough for the league leaders.

Paul Derringer, making a third try for his tenth victory, was called to face the uprising in a duel tonight with Fiddler

Bill McGee, who has a 4-1 record for St. Louis.

Barging ahead under the new management of Billy Southworth, the sixth place Cards turned to grab a 3-2 victory yesterday from the Reds, who had lost only one game to St. Louis.

Enos Slaughter lived up to his name in taking the Reds into camp by clouting two home runs and accounting for all of the Cardinal runs.

Ernie Koy made a great catch of Bill Werber's long clout for the last out of the game which would have tied the score if it had been a hit. Koy crashed into the left-field wall but held onto the ball. Morrie Arnovich was on second base at the time.

The victory went to Warnecke who allowed seven hits compared to five given the Cardinals by Whitey Moore and Johnny Hutzinger.

The Reds scored in the first inning on a double by Werber, a single by Lonnie Frey and a forced play. Frey walked and raced home on Ernie Lombardi's double for the other Red run in the eighth.

Heroes and Goats

(By International News Service)

HEROES—Frank Hayes, Philadelphia catcher, who clouted two homers as the Athletics stopped the Boston Red Sox; Enos Slaughter, St. Louis outfielder, whose two homers gave his team a victory.

GOATS—Bob Bragan, Phillies' infielder, whose fumble allowed the Brooklyn Dodgers to score the winning run; Claude Passeau, Chicago Cubs' pitcher, who issued a walk in the 10th inning, forcing across the winning Pittsburgh run.

Barnes Drop 8-2 Decision

Clement, Aristocrat Hurler, Allows 5 Hits.

Held to five hits by Clement, Aristocrat hurler, the Barnes Changers dropped an 8 to 2 decision to the Aristocrat softball club yesterday on the Barnes field diamond.

Trailing by one run until the fourth frame, the Aristocrats tied it up in that stretch, then jumped on Pitcher McGregor for three runs in the fifth and four in the seventh. The Changers scored once in the third and once in the sixth.

Thomas Aristocrat first baseman, stole the batting show by pulling out the only home run of the game. Brooks, also of the Aristocrats bolstered his batting average with three hits out of three trips to the platter.

DON McNEILL AFTER 2ND TENNIS TITLE IN WEEK

HAVERFORD, Pa. —(AP)— Sandy-haired Don McNeill needed only an hour to win his second tennis title within a week and bring little Kenyon college its first big-time championship.

Pouring on a blistering pace, the Ohio collegian whipped Joe Hunt of the Naval Academy yesterday in straight sets, 7-5, 6-1, 6-1, in the finals of the national intercollegiate tournament at the Merion club.

Hugh Mulcahy in the first inning. The Giants crushed the Boston Bees, 7-1, although they had only a 7-6 advance in hits.

The Pittsburgh Pirates edged out the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings although outlit 11-8. Relief Pitcher Claude Passeau forced over the winning run with a walk in the tenth.

Big Buck Newsom got his 11th straight victory as the Detroit Tigers took the Chicago White Sox into camp 3-1. The Tigers were outlit 6-5.

The New York Yankees and Washington Senators shared 20 hits evenly, but the world champions easily won 8-4 with the help of five Washington errors and the wildness of Hal Chase, who hit three batsmen, walked four and made two wild pitches.

The day's only game decided strictly on slugging was a 9-1 triumph by the Philadelphia Athletics over the struggling Boston Red Sox. The A's made 15 hits.

himself into poorer physical condition at the last minute that the experts have thought him to be for a week or two, and the cut he received on his chin from a flying beer glass night before last didn't mar his sterling fighting qualities.

In all the excitement attending Tony's bout with the beer glass, practically nothing has been heard of Baer for a couple of days. This is a new experience for the ex-champion. There was a time when Max grabbed off the pre-fight headlines, himself, with his dizzy escapades, but he got himself badly over-matched this time.

So quiet has Max been, indeed, that he has some observers believing he finally has become serious about this boxing business.

TERRIERS SCORE DOUBLE VICTORY OVER RED BIRDS

PORTSMOUTH —(AP)— Canton's Terriers strutted four and a half games in front of the Mid-Atlantic league pack today after a double win over the Portsmouth Red Birds, 2-1 and 9-7.

Akron, winning a single contest at Dayton 5 to 3, skidded a half-game in the standings. Rain at Youngstown for the fifth time in seven days washed out the Charleston-Youngstown fray.

Willkie Considers New Type of Campaign Setup

HUNTS STRONG MAN TO HEAD ORGANIZATION

Must 'Know His Way Around' Candidate Says of New Manager.

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK—A new type of setup for a national political campaign was under consideration today by Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican nominee for president, who was reported to be ready to name a committee of three men to head up his activities.

One man, it was understood, would be the campaign manager, another the national chairman of the party, and a third Willkie's personal representative.

Willkie himself declined to discuss the situation at a morning press conference. But it was considered likely one of the three men would be John D. M. Hamilton, present head of the Republican national committee, and another, Russell Davenport, former managing editor of Fortune who quit his job to work for Willkie's nomination.

Willkie said he had made no choice of a man to handle his campaign, and added:

"I am looking for that man now. He must be a strong, vigorous man with organizing ability and he may be a business man, a newspaperman or a politician."

"But he must know his way around."

Asked what part Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota might play in his campaign Willkie replied:

"As active a part as I can get him to play."

He said he contemplated no difficulty in adjusting his more or less campaign methods to those of the regular organization and added he was receiving splendid cooperation on all sides.

Chicago Mayor Backs Roosevelt.

CHICAGO—(AP)—In a "convention forecast," Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago declared today "there is not the slightest doubt" that President Roosevelt will be drafted for a third term at the national Democratic convention which opens July 15 in Chicago.

The mayor, who is an ardent New Dealer and Illinois Democratic chief, is expected to wield considerable influence at the convention, said the president's nomination is so certain that the only matter under discussion among national Democratic leaders concerns the identity of the vice presidential candidate.

"There is not the slightest doubt about it," Kelly declared. "President Roosevelt will be drafted. We Illinois Democrats are for him, of course, but I am basing my statement on conversations I have had with the Democratic leadership throughout the country."

"The president has told me and others that he is not a candidate. He has had eight hard years, and the next four will be harder. But the rank and file of the people want him, and we are going to draft him on the first ballot."

"Who will place Mr. Roosevelt in nomination has not been decided, but there are many capable men anxious to do it."

Anglers Report Charles Mill Lake Teeming With Big Fish

Charles Mill dam, opened to the public for fishing for the first time yesterday, proved a fisherman's paradise and some fabulous tales of catches are being told over the city today.

Dozens of anglers caught the limit in several types of fish, including bass and blue gills. Some of the bass tipped the scales at three and a half and four pounds, according to the reports.

One group of four fishermen were said to have brought in 40 fish, including cat and carp on which there is no limit.

Galento And Baer Trade Punches at Weigh-In Ceremony

JERSEY CITY—(AP)—Maxie Baer swung a punch at Tony Galento while the two heavyweights were posing for photographs here today, and their handlers had to pry them apart as they took turns snarling threats at each other. A wild right swing glanced off Tony's abundant stomach after he had slapped Baer's guard down.

All had been fairly peaceful while the pair weighed in for their 15-round bout tonight. Galento seeped 214½, Baer 211½.

Later, they struck their fighting poses for the cameramen. Tony suddenly slapped Baer's left foot down, possibly thinking Maxie was holding it too close to the Galento features.

Baer's reaction was fast and apparently serious. He swung with everything he had, and Tony braced to meet him as their handlers rushed in and grabbed both men.

"I'll get ya tonight ya mug," shouted the enraged Galento.

"That's all I'm waiting for," yelled Maxie right back.

The incident appeared to have been spontaneous.

TRAPPED BIRD SHOWS POWER

Bluejay Wrecks Furnishings of Joe Vosmik Home.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Mrs. Joe Vosmik, wife of the Brooklyn Dodgers outfielder, is trying to figure out how that bluejay became so strong and destructive.

At first, she thought the offender was a burglar when she came home yesterday and found vases broken, lamps overturned and pictures askew on the wall. She called police.

Patrolman Jack Sims and Mrs. Vosmik cautiously searched the house and finally came upon a very tired bluejay, perched on a table. Sims carried it outside to freedom.

UP 4 MILLION

Bank Clearings Show Big Jump In First Six Months of 1940.

Bank clearings in Mansfield for the first six months of this year have leaped ahead of the same period in 1939 by more than four million dollars, it was announced today.

From Jan. 1 to June 30 this year $45,875,531 passed through Mansfield banks, while for the first six months of last year the figure was $41,594,952.

June of this year showed an increase of $781,599 over the same month last year, with $7,694,156 going through the banks in the month just ending, as compared with $7,112,567 last June.

Why Talk of War? We're Not Ready, Says Legion Head

ELIZABETH, N. J.—(AP)—Raymond J. Kelly, national commander of the American Legion, asserted Saturday that inadequate preparations made it "idle" for this country to "talk of fighting any war."

"With what would we intervene?" he asked in addressing members of North Jersey Legion posts. "We are wholly unprepared for any kind of an emergency."

Contending that a modern war cannot be fought with "hopes and blueprints," Kelly said this country needed a standing army of 500,000 men, with a similar number in reserve.

In addition to defense preparations, "unity in the hearts of the people," was also necessary, Kelly said, along with "ridding the country of fifth columnists."

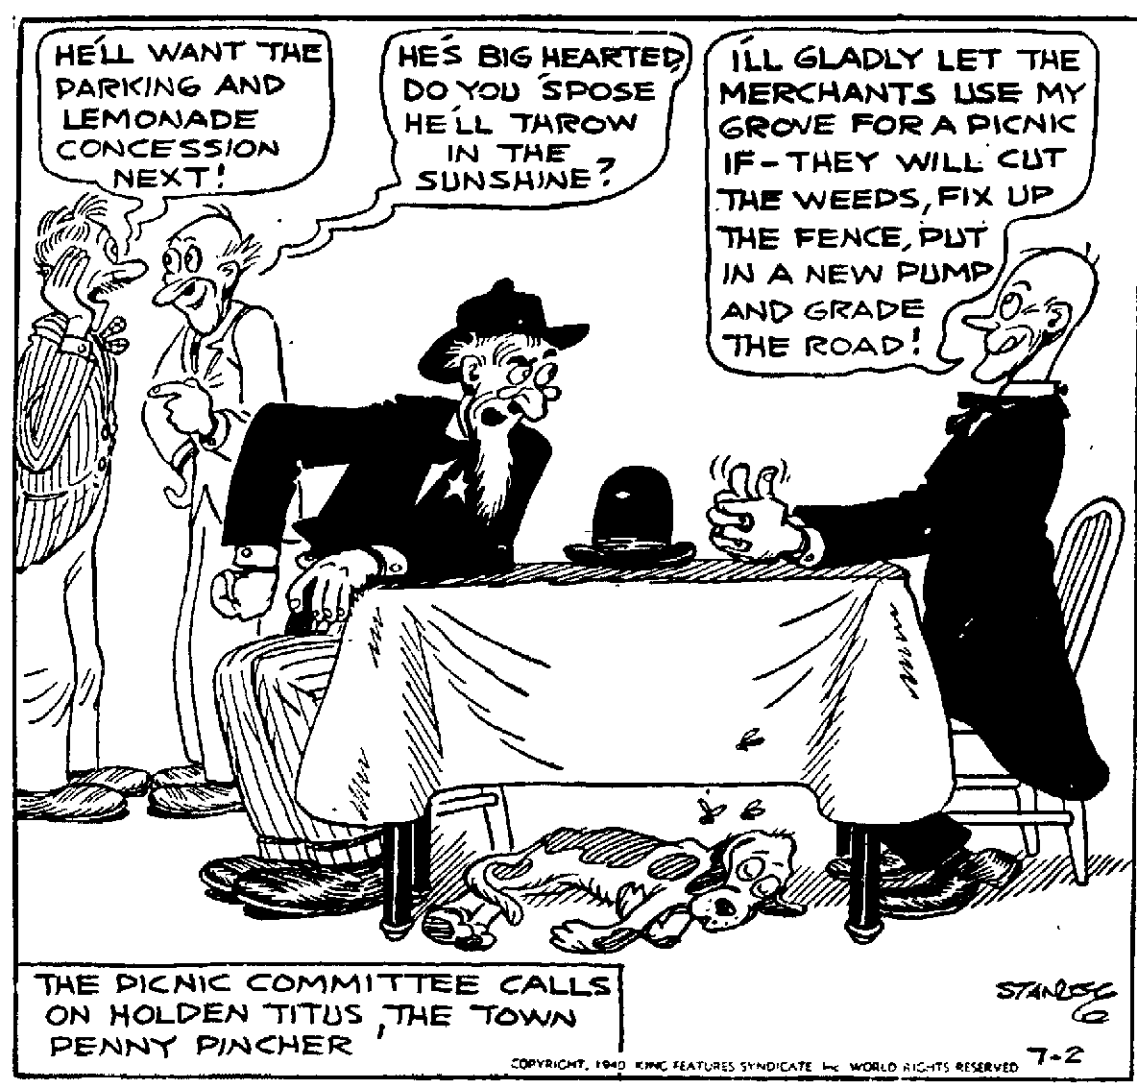

The national commander warned against fighting other people's wars and said, "if we ever go to war again, we want to be sure it is our war and not someone else's."

FORMER MANSFIELD GIRL TO RIDE IN ASHLAND HORSE SHOW

A most promising juvenile rider, mantown fair, known for its first class horse shows.

Since taking up riding Miss Linham has entered 27 horse shows and won trophies in each appearance, including several blue ribbons for first place in the juvenile classes.

She is Miss Connie Linham, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Linham of Portsmouth and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Linham, 32 Florence avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Campbell, 111 Mulberry street.

In her first appearance this season Miss Linham won the juvenile horsemanship contest at the Columbus horse show. After taking all of the juvenile honors she stepped into the adult class and placed third in a field of 12 widely-known Columbus riders.

She mounts Rix Raf, an Arabian stallion by Raffles, nationally known Arabian stallion, owned by Roger A. Selby of Portsmouth, breeder of Arabian horses.

Miss Linham took up riding last year as a hobby and appeared in horse shows in the Scioto, Adams, Brown, Ross and Jackson county fairs and in the widely-known Germantown, Ky., fair. She carried off first honors in the Germantown fair.

PERHAPS CITY WON'T NEED MORE FIREMEN

Cincinnati Court of Appeals Rules Out 72-Hour Work Week for Department.

The worries of city officials over complying with a recently enacted state law setting up additional time-off periods for city firemen and establishing a 72-hour week, may have been for nothing, for the law was declared unconstitutional today in an opinion filed by the First district court of Appeals at Cincinnati.

Several months ago the city received warning from the state department of Industrial Relations that if steps weren't taken by Mansfield officials to comply with the law, the state would file suit against the city.

Fire Chief Charles Seeburger said that it would require four additional men to comply with the law, enacted last September, and asked council for an appropriation to cover the cost of additional men.

When council failed to vote the money, Seeburger set up a "stagger system" of days off which made it possible to comply with the law, if there were no men off on sick leave and no vacations.

Several weeks ago the fire chief asked council for funds to hire two additional firemen for the vacation period. This appropriation was made, but up to the present the city has not appropriated extra funds for additional permanent firemen.

In dismissing the petition of George A. Strain, director of the state department of Industrial Relations for a writ to compel Cincinnati's compliance with the law, the court of appeals held that the law took away from municipalities the right of community self-government, as provided for in the state constitution.

Strain filed the writ in order to make a test case of Cincinnati's refusal to comply. Cincinnati officials said it would require adding 100 firemen at a cost to the city of $195,000.

Fire Chief Seeburger said today that he would continue to operate under the 72-hour law "until further instructions from the state department." Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton said he had not heard of the court of appeals' decision and "would immediately consult the city solicitor on what action the city would take."

Doorkeeper to presidents of the United States these last 37 years, Mr. McKenna died yesterday of a kidney ailment. Death came on the anniversary of the day he joined the White House staff in 1903.

President Roosevelt led official Washington in mourning the 65-year-old doorman who long since had become one of the city's traditional characters.

Mr. Roosevelt had followed Mr. McKenna's illness with concern. Only Sunday he wrote Pat a letter, concluding with the admonition: "Come back soon. I need you."

This was probably the first time Pat disobeyed a president.

AT CONFERENCE IN COLUMBUS

Vocational Co-ordinator Learns Details of Training Program.

V. H. Oberlander, co-ordinator of vocational training at Senior high school, is in Columbus today attending the conference of vocational school heads on participation in the national defense program.

Representatives of more than 50 vocational schools were called to Columbus today by E. N. Dietrich, state director of education, to set up a program for training between 30,000 and 40,000 Ohioans as machinists and mechanics.

Dietrich said he would ask congress for $317,000 to finance the work. The ten-week training program is to be for unemployed persons and workers desiring supplementary training.

TOKYO—(AP)—Carrying about 100 Americans from Hong Kong, the United States liner President Coolidge sailed for Manila today.

PAY TAXES

Property Owners Turn In $6,000 on First Day.

Collections from Richland county tax payers yesterday, the official opening of the tax period, amounted to approximately the same as that collected on the first day last year.

County Treasurer John E. Kolb reported yesterday's collections totaled $6,132, as compared with $6,276 on July 15, 1939, which was the opening date last year.

Before the books opened yesterday, $68,000 had been collected, Kolb said, which is more than three times the $21,424 paid in last summer before the books opened.

The increased amount collected before the books opened, he said, was due to the fact that for the first time tax statements had been sent out in mid-year, as well as at the first of the year.

ROOSEVELT LEADS MOURNING OVER DOORMAN'S DEATH

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Genial Pat McKenna won't be back this time.

Doorkeeper to presidents of the United States these last 37 years, Mr. McKenna died yesterday of a kidney ailment. Death came on the anniversary of the day he joined the White House staff in 1903.

President Roosevelt led official Washington in mourning the 65-year-old doorman who long since had become one of the city's traditional characters.

Mr. Roosevelt had followed Mr. McKenna's illness with concern. Only Sunday he wrote Pat a letter, concluding with the admonition: "Come back soon. I need you."

WOMAN TAKES FREE DINNER

Believed In Sign Which Said 'Take One.'

SEATTLE—(AP)—Next to an iced exhibit of prize winning fish in a sporting goods store was a box containing vacation pamphlets and a big sign—"Take One." So many persons took one the pamphlets soon were gone.

Along came a woman. She unfolded a newspaper, took one of the big fish and went home with her dinner problem solved.

The proprietor took down the sign.

NURSES APPEAL TO CITY FOR VISIT FUNDS

Ask Partial Payment for Calls To Indigent Patients In Municipal Area.

A eleventh hour appeal by the Mansfield visiting nurses association for an allocation to be included in the city budget which comes before council tonight was on file today with council's finance committee and city officials.

The board of the Visiting Nurses has asked that the city pay 25 cents, or about one-fifth of the cost for each visit made by the nurses to the city's indigent sick.

Maintained largely by the Community Fund, the nurses last year made 1,186 free visits to homes of city medical cases, at a cost to the association of $1,458, according to members of the board.

These visits to the city cases, according to Miss Marjorie Palmer, supervisor of Nurses, were made at the request of the City Health department.

The cost per visit is approximately $1.25 and the board is asking that the city pay one fifth of this amount. On last year's basis, this would total $286.50 per year. The Visiting Nurses are asking for this sum to be included in the 1941 budget, with an allowance of 25 cents per visit to the city's indigent cases.

VOTE ON CIO

3,500 Workers Go to Polls In Westinghouse Election.

Approximately 3,500 production and maintenance employees at the Mansfield Westinghouse plant were to go to the polls today in an election to determine whether they shall be represented by the CIO-Union Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers' in their labor bargaining.

The balloting which opened at the plant this morning is being conducted by National Labor Relations board officials from Cleveland and Washington. The voting will be closed at midnight.

The election was ordered by the NLRB several weeks ago after the board had reviewed a petition filed by local 711 of the UERMW.

In a similar election held last winter in which the local withdrew from participation, employees rejected the Westinghouse Employees' association, an independent union as a collective bargaining agent by a vote of 1,445 to 943.

British Fear Hitler Plans Ireland Thrust

Axis Powers Succeed in Quieting War Menace in Balkans, Apply Pressure On Hungary And Bulgaria of Brashov, just inside Transylvania.

The arrival of the guns followed the receipt of 200 German planes on the eve of the receipt of the Russian ultimatum to Rumania. The shipment of German planes at that time gave rise to reports that Germany was encouraging Rumania to resist Russia.
Rumanian circles emphasized that Germany contracted to provide Rumania with arms from the Skoda works in former Czechoslovakia and that these contracts are being fulfilled.
It was reported today that deaths in rioting between Jews making their way to Soviet-occupied Rumania and refugees fleeing that area have reached 200. There was no official confirmation of the casualties.
Diplomatic sources interpreted Rumania's renunciation of the British pledge—which was made by Britain on its own initiative and without negotiations so far as is known—as meaning that Rumania, hemmed in by Russia, envelop the Ukraine and the Baku oil fields. Such a campaign, successfully executed, would insure the rich vast quantities of wheat and oil to carry on its war against Britain and to withstand the ravages of both winter and the blockade.

Whether information of this character reached Stalin, of course, is conjectural, but Washington officials consider it highly significant that he moved into both the Baltic states and Rumania just when he did. He has had nine months to take whatever spoils may have been agreed upon at the Molotov-Von Ribbentrop conference just preceding the war, but has waited until this particular moment to act.
Although considered Berlin comment has been to the effect that Hitler was agreeable to Stalin's moves, observers noted that the first spontaneous reaction from the German capital, when the Red army marched, was surprise and annoyance.
This army, in its new position, is able to cut off traffic moving via the Danube from the Balkans to Germany.
Moreover, observers pointed out, if Stalin is convinced that Hitler plans sooner or later to attack Russia, he may choose to launch a "defensive offensive" at the very moment when the German army is most deeply embedded in its British campaign—should Britain be chosen as the first victim.

moved onto the crossing after a freight train had passed.
Mrs. Johnson's death boosted Richland county's 1940 traffic toll to nine. At the same time last year 13 persons had been killed in highway accidents in the county.
State highway patrolmen said the machine was thrown 200 feet by the force of the impact.
Mrs. Duda, who was confined to her home, today suffering from shock, said she and her daughter, who had moved to Shiloh only yesterday morning, were on their way back to Mansfield.
Born Feb. 28, 1894, Mrs. Johnson had lived in Mansfield for the past 33 years. She was formerly employed at the J. C. Penney company.
She is survived by a daughter, Mary; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Duda, and a brother, Nicholas.
In another accident this morning, Robert Denig, 147 South Main street, sustained a shoulder injury when the car in which he was riding with Harold Hall, 49 Arthur avenue, collided with a taxicab at South Main and First streets.
Police said the cab was being driven east on First street by Robert Albright, 46½ West Fourth street. Hall was going south on Main.

"It is therefore fitting that on this Fourth Day of July, 1940, we Americans renew the covenant of our forefathers, and reaffirm among ourselves and before all mankind:
"That all men are created equal.
"That the freedom of Americans—which assures liberty of conscience, of speech, of assembly and of the press—is vital to the defense of our country against foreign and domestic foes.
"That the equality of Americans—which includes all races, creeds and colors—recognizes the contributions of each to upbuilding the nation, and makes loyalty to our country the only test of Christian or Jew, white or negro, native or foreign-born.
"That on these principles of freedom and equality, the American people stand united, and in defense of our national unity—whatever difficulties and dangers lie ahead—we, as did our forefathers, mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

ence that the proposed legislation would be along lines of World War levies.
The old excess profits tax, levied on 1918 earnings, took 8 per cent of an individual's earnings above $6,000 and therefore, was paid by many professional men and high salaried workers. It was in addition to income taxes.
Several formulae were used for corporations, some gauged to capital investment, one based on earnings during the 1911-13 pre-war period.
Action on the tax proposal is not expected for several months because of the complicated nature of the subject.
Because of this situation and the lack of pressing legislation, administration leaders made tentative plans to recess congress for the Democratic national convention July 15, return here for a brief period, and then recess again until about Oct. 1.
Before the post-convention recess, the house probably will vote on the senate-approved Hatch bill prohibiting political activities by state employees paid in part with federal funds. The senate may consider the house-approved Logan-Walter bill, making it easier for interested parties to contest the decisions of federal departments and commissions.
Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) said he would call a meeting of the senate labor committee next week to decide whether to start hearings on Wagner act amendments passed by the house.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
MANSFIELD, OHIO, TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1940.

It sometimes seems that missionaries were sent to the wrong places.

After the way Senator Taft's middle initial was fumbled by convention delegates the nominee's WLW combination seems rather fortunate.

Progress: Mexico's presidential campaign has proceeded thus far with only around four hundred killings—and the election comes off next Sunday.

Taxes for National Defense

THOSE mild new defense taxes which became effective yesterday should be patiently, almost cheerfully, accepted as a small part of the cost of military preparedness in this country.

This is no time to argue that the wasted billions of dollars frittered away in recent years would have gone far toward providing the defenses which the United States now needs.

THAT money is gone—as a result of New Deal profligacy—and the immediate urgent need is for additional billions which, it is hoped, will be intelligently disbursed in strengthening this nation's military establishment to the point of PREVENTING requirement that it be used.

Whatever fond hopes may have been entertained twenty years ago, or even a year ago, that civilization had reached a point at which disarmament was safe procedure, have been blasted by recent occurrences in Europe, China and other parts of the world.

Nor is there any longer justification for a feeling that the Atlantic and Pacific oceans safeguard this country against attack by foreign powers equipped with modern instruments of warfare.

A few additional pennies, even many more dollars, in taxes, is little to pay as compared with the sacrifices that have been made by millions of people in Europe who have seen their homes and cities destroyed, men, women and children slaughtered or made refugees from their own countries, and their lands overrun by invading hordes.

Pay defense taxes gladly. Ask only that the money be used to best advantage in giving the United States a military strength that will be respected throughout the world.

Legion Frowns On 'Private Army'

MEMBERS of the American Legion have themselves taken the lead in opposing a plan for the organization of a private army under Legion auspices.

The proposed army was to be composed of citizens from 18 years up. Thousands of them were to be recruited. Legionnaires would be officers. The purpose was wholly patriotic, to aid the government in various ways, including control of subversive activities, promotion of recruiting for the regular branches of military services, survey of strategic points and plan for their defense, blackout tests, and so on.

Upon disclosure of the plan, Maryland legionnaires protested at once. They wired national headquarters to hold up further work on plans "pending definite action by the national executive committee." Even an attempt to adopt the plan, "apparently lacking in federal or state authority," would be "most dangerous," they said.

It is to be expected that many hasty proposals will be made by well-meaning folk in times of crisis like these. Wise counsel will prevent most of them from coming to fruition. No private army is needed in this country, or any private punishment of subversive elements or spies. Laws and public authorities are competent to take care of these matters, and democracy requires that they be left to do so.

Much Shorter Fishing Trip

WITH the opening yesterday of Charles Mill lake for fishing, anglers living in Mansfield, Richland and neighboring counties—in fact all this northcentral Ohio area—are now able to enjoy an experience of which they have long been deprived—good fishing within a convenient distance from home.

While many enthusiastic fishermen regard no time, trouble or distance as too great to permit enjoyment of their favorite sport, others are not so fortunate as to have time for long fishing trips and appreciate this new opportunity to fish for a few hours not far from home.

The large Charles Mill lake, already well stocked with largemouth and black bass, blue gills, crappies, channel and bullhead catfish, offers an attractive fishing place at no greater distance than six to ten miles southeast of Mansfield.

An optimistic prediction by Conservation Commissioner Don Waters is that the conservation area of which Charles Mill lake is a part will shortly be developed into the best fishing grounds in the state. "The waters are exceptionally clean," he said, "and nowhere in the entire district is there any pollution."

France's Mistakes Reviewed

LE PETITE GIRONDE, a daily newspaper of Bordeaux, France, recently reviewed the mistakes of the past twenty years and summed up the tragedy of France in the inability of the government "ever to carry to completion a definite policy toward Germany."

"Our error was in never choosing between the alternatives of agreement or fighting," the newspaper explained. "With the occupation of the Ruhr by Germany we attempted a policy of coercion. Under pressure of our Allies we abandoned it before it might have returned the results we expected of it."

"With Briand (former Premier Aristide Briand who died in 1932) we attempted a policy of reconciliation and understanding. Briand never found in parliament the majority which would have permitted him to realize his aims."

In another discussion of France's plight, a writer told of the efforts of Premier Paul Reynaud and General de Gaulle, while there was yet time, to awaken the public to the perils of the motionless Maginot line and to institute defense based on heavily mechanized and mobile army divisions. The chamber of deputies said no, and the foresight of a few Frenchmen was thereby rendered useless.

The only point in reviewing the successive blunders made by the democracies of Europe—and Great Britain has its long list of them, as much as France—is to stop the making of similar blunders in the surviving democracies, of which the United States is the greatest.

Neville Chamberlain says he'll "eat his hat if history doesn't approve his foreign policy"—but he's taking no chances on his umbrella.

A Kansas man is rounding out his 500th reading of the New Testament—and by now should have a fairly good idea of what it's about.

There was some thought of re-christening it the "Grand Young Party"—until the initials were noticed.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—If a strange yodling cry beats into your dreams these nights a good idea would be to slip downstairs and see if anyone has accidentally left the radio going. It just may be that they have, and you probably have been disturbed, or entertained, whichever the case may be, by a 12-year-old Italian boy whose name is Olevio Santoro, of Far Rockaway, New York, and who, according to his mother, has been yodling ever since she is able to remember.

Even when he was three and four years of age Olevio was something of a seventh wonder in his neighborhood because of the pure stream of Swiss alpine yodles with which he daily flooded the neighborhood.

JUST how it all happened no one knows, not even Olevio himself, but unexpectedly one day he received a card from one of the broadcasting companies asking him to come in and let himself be heard. After a fast acceptance he quickly established himself and now is earning a salary of $200 a week for yodling on a radio program sponsored by a Philadelphia company that sells meats.

Olevio, whose parents are hard-working landscape gardeners, appears to be making a broad career of his yodling prowess. Between algebra and Latin exercises in the ninth grade, at which he is a medium good student, he is conducting yodling classes at the Grand Street Settlement House in New York for the benefit of little boys in Manhattan who also would like to become proficient in the art of emitting those high clarion, bugle-like notes that echo so prettily from mountain tops. Furthermore, he has agreed to conduct a city-wide yodling contest, sponsored by the Settlement House, which will take place July 17 at East River Park, and to the winner will go the distinction of being the finest yodler in all the metropolitan district—with the exception of Olevio himself, of course.

BELIEVING also in the power of the pen, Olevio has written an exhaustive treatise called "How to Yodle," a well-conceived booklet of instruction for home use. This contains a secret code for yodlers which, apparently, works something like the code of the tobacco auctioneers. Only another yodler can understand what it means.

For instance, if you want to ask your pal, who lives two blocks away, if he wants to go to the movies tonight, you merely stick your head out the window and cut loose. Your mother and the neighbors will think you are merely practicing your yodles. But your pal will understand you immediately. This code is said to be so complete and flexible that conversations of a limitless variety may be carried on by the hour.

Olevio plans later to compose an opera sung entirely in yodles and he also has in mind the broad outlines of a mystery novel in which yodling will be used as a medium for espionage. In sum, here is a thin, olive-skinned young man with a shock of tar-black hair who has tied the world to an Alpine cliff—all from his front yard in Far Rockaway, which, after all, is only 20 miles—and therefore no more than good yodling distance—from New York.

Safer and Saner Fourth.

—By DR. CLENDENING

THE Fourth of July has become so comparatively safe that I often hear the view expressed that it is unnecessary to put out scarehead warnings about fireworks precautions. But such a view is not upheld by the facts.

True, things are improving. But there were 13 deaths in the United States in 1939 directly due to the celebration of the Fourth. This compares well to the 18 deaths in 1938 and the 20 in 1937, and of course it is heaven compared to other years. But besides deaths there were 5,500 injuries, so the dangers are not entirely fanciful.

Keystone Progress.

An example of what can be accomplished by state regulation is seen in Pennsylvania. In 1938 Pennsylvania led all other states with six deaths from fireworks, and in 1939 had passed a statewide law which prohibited all fireworks of any kind. In that year the state reported no Fourth of July deaths, and no loss of vision in eye injuries. It had 74 burns and lacerations while Ohio had 319 and New York 1,473.

Maryland, which has had a bad record for many years, had a bill banning fireworks which passed the house of representatives, but was defeated in the senate by a vote of 15 to 14. Maryland had 1 death and 169 injuries reported in 1939, with 9 eye injuries and 2 cases of loss of hand or fingers.

No cases of lockjaw were reported in 1939, which indicates that the use of tetanus antitoxin in every Fourth of July injury which breaks the skin has again proved its value and effectiveness.

Our modern Fourth of July fireworks are apparently mild and quiet compared to the detonations of our youth, but the warning should be emphasized again that the "harmless" sparkler is not so harmless. They start fires, there are accounts in the next day newspapers of children being burned to death from sparklers and other mild-appearing noise-makers.

Any kind of fireworks can put your eyes out; none is so mild as not to be dangerous. Even sadder than the death record is the blind record of 1939—with 19 cases of loss of vision in one or both eyes. Certainly even with "harmless" sparklers or cap pistols, children should not be left unguarded.

This Compulsory Training Bill.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THIS Administration Compulsory Training Bill for training all youngsters over 18, which would prepare them to serve, in a war emergency, as soldiers, nurses, mechanics, workers in all essential industries—conscripted government aids—I wonder about it.

Theoretically, it seems a fine idea. And, within limits, I'm for it. I'm a mother myself; but I've little patience with the maternal slogan. "I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier!" Of course you didn't, lady. But suppose he has to choose between being a soldier or a captive in some concentration camp? Or even a corpse? Then what?

Actually, the Compulsory Training Bill in no way ordains that your boy must be a soldier. It merely implies that your boy should receive more practical training than our public schools are now able to supply. And, I'd go further and suggest the same for girls. Not necessarily training in death. But training in useful, efficient life. A training which would fortify young minds and bodies against the perilous emergencies of modern existence.

That they need such training, no intelligent parent can deny. In spite of the splendid service which most of our schools render, the average youngster who graduates from high school at 18 is about as ready to cope with Reality as an unhatched egg.

And his greatest handicap, usually, is a doting Mamma and Poppa. I should know, being a 100 per cent Doter myself! So the condition in the Compulsory Training Program which seems most obnoxious to most parents—namely, the fact that children may be separated from their respective families for a time—is possibly the best thing about the whole plan.

Getting Rid of the Old Folks, pro tem, would save many a promising youngster from a lifetime of spineless indecision and timid side-stepping.

So give 'em training, says I. Give them all the training which their eager young natures need to prepare them for a tough tackle with a tricky world. Give them a chance to see what life is really like, without Mom and Dad padding the shocks and kissing the bumps.

BUT granting all this, I'm still not prepared to vote 100 per cent for that Compulsory Training Bill. There's one part in particular which makes me stop, look, listen—and snort! It implies, as elaborated by some people that such training would purge youngsters of the "isms" which have lately beset them, and teach them not to criticize their elders.

Now I despise a lipky kid as much as anyone. Moreover, I am keenly aware of the dangerous influence of radical "isms" on inexperienced natures. Yet I have a far greater fear of any plan which would curtail individual thought, robust initiative, and healthy rebellion in youth. Our future and

Imperishables

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

WE HAVE no radio, and as yet, no telephone. Sometimes I think we may be better off without. Screaming headlines of newspapers are distracting, but they will wait until we are ready to attend to them. And children do not read war news, but they will listen to it.

The mail is our daily thrill. Hardly a day passes, but we receive a message from some reader whose interest has been friendly enough to prompt him to praise or criticism. If our friends could see us in front of the village post-office—in our car, with a load of chicken feed upon the rear—they would wonder what that farmer and his "frau" found to be so particularly lenient or interesting we often save it until we come to a certain hilltop, out our way, and there we stop and enjoy it together.

What are they like? Listen to this, from Dr. Garry C. Myers, editor of Children's Activities, whose daily column, "Bringing Up a Family," appears in more than 100 papers over the country. "Lovely to see you and Mrs. Byers succeed . . . we have interests and ideals in common. I hope you put more and more emphasis on the imperishables. You may quote me on this."

The "imperishables." That word is wide and deep and high enough to give inspiration for any effort. We thank Dr. Myers.

Then yesterday came this one, from a lady of our home city, Mansfield, Ohio. "You have given me so much pleasure with your column, 'A Farmer's Diary,' that for a long time I have wanted to thank you. The one in yesterday's (Sunday) paper focused the idea. As so very many of them do, it brought up happy thoughts and memories."

"My father was a lawyer. We lived on the edge of a small town in 'Old Missouri'—a ten-acre place. It wasn't a farm exactly, but we had horses and a cow. My parents read Shakespeare for evening amusement and though we were too little to listen, I found when I came to high school, that I knew many of the stories. Latin, too, recalled stories I didn't know I had ever heard. That impressed me with the fact that children get so much more than we think, when little. I was a trained kindergarten teacher, and I sense that you, like me, love all children as well as your own. What a gift of God that is to us!"

"And Nature, the old nurse, took the child upon her knee. Saying: 'Here is a story book. Thy Father has written for thee.'"

"Come wander with me," she said, "into regions yet untrod; And read what is still unread, In the manuscripts of God."—Longfellow—"Fiftieth Birthday of Agassiz."

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—How vigorously Nazi Germany is trying to undermine the United States in Latin America is illustrated by a secret arms offer Hitler has just made to sell $60,000,000 worth of the latest military weapons to Brazil.

This would include tanks, artillery, flame-throwers, bombing planes and other modern devices with which Germany prostrated France—all transported to a hemisphere where Pan-American nations have been relatively at peace for half a century.

Furthermore, Germany guarantees to deliver the goods almost immediately—via Italian ships. This indicates how sure Hitler is of conquering England. He can sell his arms almost before the British attack starts.

It now looks very much as if Brazil would accept the offer.

State department officials, together with General George Marshall, dynamic U. S. chief of staff, are pulling every possible wire to prevent the purchase, but they are having a hard time. They are offering to sell American military equipment instead. However, the Brazilians point out that because of cheap Nazi wages it would take $200,000,000 to buy the same material here where costs are much higher. Furthermore, Hitler is willing to accept coffee and other Brazilian surplus products in a barter deal. No real cash is involved.

Finally, the Brazilians say they bought some artillery from the United States recently, but it was World War stuff, and they had to spend $8,000 for repairs on each gun. The German munitions, on the other hand, are virtually new.

General Marshall made a special flight to Brazil last year to get acquainted with the Brazilian army, and later piloted General Goes Monteiro, Brazilian chief of staff, all over the United States. However, all this goodwill doesn't seem to count today. At least 40 per cent of the Brazilian army is reported to be pro-Nazi.

Note—Meanwhile the state department moves with tragic slowness to counteract Nazi activity in South America. Three years ago it set up a Cultural Relations Bureau to cultivate Latin America, but its activity to date is minus zero.

Dr. Townsend's Disgust.

I GOT LOST in the news shuffle, but Doc Townsend, the piper of old age pensions, walked out on the Republican convention before it was two days old.

"This is nothing but a wild jubilee," Townsend told friends as he packed up to leave Philadelphia. "Just a lot of noisy politicians talking about a war 3,000 miles away with no serious thought of shaping an economic program for the country for the next four years."

"It certainly is an extraordinary spectacle for a national convention. I hope the Democrats have more to offer us."

The only candidate that interested the 73-year-old pension leader was Wendell Wilkie, but he couldn't get near him.

"Every time I tried to see Wilkie he was surrounded by a mob of shouting supporters," groaned Townsend. "I finally gave up and decided to wash my hands of the whole business."

Ford Airplane Motors.

THE dispute with Henry Ford over producing 6,000 Rolls Royce airplane engines for Great Britain had more behind it than met the eye.

Among other things it illustrated one of the major national defense problems of the country—plant capacity. In order to arm in a hurry, huge factory space is necessary, and Ford has it, in fact has boasted that he could produce 1,000 airplane engines daily.

To take advantage of this, National Defense mogul Knudsen, head of General Motors and a rival of Ford, gave him an order for 9,000 Rolls-Royce motors. Actually, Knudsen could have handled the order in his own General Motors plant, but he leaned over backward against favoritism. His own Allison airplane motor competes with the Rolls-Royce.

Therefore, Edsel Ford came to Washington and accepted the order, subject to the approval of his father. Later he telephoned his father in Detroit and reported to Knudsen that the 9,000 engines would be manufactured—3,000 for the United States, 6,000 for England at a cost of $14,500 per engine.

Knudsen immediately reported this to the war department where it was considered one of the most important steps so far taken toward fulfilling the goal of 50,000 airplanes. For the United States, by taking advantage of the bulk British order, was getting a cheaper price.

No Motor Money.

HOWEVER, Assistant War Secretary Louis Johnson immediately raised the red flag of no money. Congress had not appropriated enough funds for these new airplane engines, he said. However, Johnson immediately telephoned to Jimmy Byrnes, able administration manipulator in the senate and a member of the appropriations committee.

"Senator," said Johnson, "we've got a bargain order for 3,000 airplane engines placed with Ford if we can get $43,500,000. Can you put that amount through your committee?"

"The committee's in session right now," Byrnes replied. "Have you got the OK on the Budget bureau?"

So Senator Byrnes held the appropriations committee in session for thirty minutes more while Johnson telephoned the Budget bureau and the White House to get their approval. A few minutes thereafter, the senate committee OK'd the $43,500,000.

All this was done in one afternoon, just after Edsel Ford reported that he had received his father's telephonic OK.

Everyone at the war department was congratulating Knudsen when suddenly Henry Ford issued his statement refusing to manufacture motors for England or any belligerent. Disappointed, Knudsen immediately went to Detroit, argued with him at length, but the elder Ford was adamant.

So now the order is going to Packard.

Note—Ford maintains plants in Canada and England which cooperate with the British on war supplies.

More Defense Money.

WITHIN the next few days, Congress may get an intimate close-up of the national defense picture and be asked to make additional huge outlays.

Reason for this is the necessity of spending money in a hurry in order to enlarge American factory capacity. Naturally industry won't increase its plant capacity merely because large orders might come in case of war. Industry has got to have the actual orders in hand before it can spend for plant expansion.

What the United States needs for national defense, however, is an expanded industrial system now, one which could manufacture prodigious quantities a few days—not a few months—after war broke.

SUES TO RETAIN USE OF BUILDING

Plaintiff Obtains Injunction
To Retain Use of Storage
And Ice House.

G. C. Estes, Mansfield, was granted a temporary injunction yesterday in common pleas court to enjoin the Mansfield municipal court and Mrs. Zona M. Laird from interfering with his use of an ice house and storage room at Fifth and Mulberry streets.

Estes contended in his action that Mrs. Laird assured him he would be permitted to use the ice house and storage room if he agreed not to appear at a hearing in municipal court.

He said he kept his part of the agreement, but she obtained a decree of forcible detention against him, anyway.

Named as defendants in the action with Mrs. Laird were August Schultz, municipal court clerk; Z. Z. Shriner, Mrs. Bessie Estes, and C. T. Denly, the last three of whom were said to have an interest in the property involved in the suit.

SUMMER, EARLY FALL CHOSEN FOR WEDDINGS

July, August, October Dates Already Named; Miss Yaeger, Miss Pfaff Will Be Brides of Current Month.

ALTHOUGH we have long considered June the month of brides, and this year has been no exception—having set a high record for number of weddings, the nuptial parade is destined to continue through the summer and early fall if recent announcements are any indication. No marriages for the early part of July have been announced, but later in the month Mansfield society will have an opportunity to hear a few "I dos."

Miss Dorothy Yaeger, well-known member of the younger set, left today for Thompson, Ga., and her family home to make arrangements for her marriage to James M. Polatty, Columbia, S. C. The ceremony will be performed at Thompson July 20 at the Methodist church there.

The following day Miss Kathryn Pfaff and William Todd will exchange their vows at the home of the prospective bridegroom's uncle, Coleman Todd, Park avenue west, at 3:30 p. m.

Although the custom of announcing engagements three months or more in advance of the wedding date has become a practice in most large communities, Mansfield brides-elect are just adopting the form. At a recent tea Miss Anna Nenich revealed that she will become the bride of Paul Dick Etzweiler on Aug. 24. The closed church ceremony will be performed at St. Mark's Lutheran church.

Two weddings have already been scheduled for early fall. At a recent cocktail party Miss June Crouse and Fred Holl told their friends that they plan to wed early in October. Details have not yet been disclosed. The other is that of Miss Inga Wolf who will marry Edwin Leech on Oct. 12. Complete plans for the nuptial event will be announced later.

DATE CHANGE.

The Ladies Aid of the St. Paul Lutheran church will meet July 11 at the church instead of the customary first Thursday of the month which falls on July 4. Mrs. William Bailey will be hostess, and Mrs. Henry Fischer is in charge of the program.

PLAN PICNIC.

Members and guests of the Western Reserve Alumnae club will meet at Brookside park in Ashland July 13 for a picnic supper at 6 p. m. Members are asked to bring their own supper and service, and coffee will be furnished by Ashland members. Mrs. B. H. Esgar, president, announced.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

ASHLAND.—A marriage license was issued here to Stewart A. Horvat of Cleveland and Martha E. Stafford of Hayesville.

DAUGHTER BORN

GALION.—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Helcher of Galion are the parents of a daughter born Sunday night at the Crestline Emergency hospital.

For Comfort

First choice for smart comfort—slacks. Whip cord trousers of blue. A Florence Gainer design.

PICNIC.

The Mansfield General Hospital Nurses' Alumnae association held a picnic in South park yesterday evening. There were 46 members and their friends present for the affair. Mrs. Rosella Lorentz was in charge of the dinner, after which the group played games. The next regular meeting will be an event of Aug. 5, with the place to be announced later.

Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm Hawk returned to Madison, Wis. today after a two-week visit here with Mrs. R. S. Damblyn, 141 Bowman street.

Simple Ceremony Performed Sunday At Windover Farm

Simplicity marked the marriage at 3:30 p. m. Sunday of Miss Carolyn Adams Chamberlain and Harold A. Haupt, Michawaka, Ind. The service was read by Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at the family home, Windover Farms. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frederick A. Chamberlain, and the late Mr. Chamberlain.

Mr. Haupt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Haupt, Wabash, Ind. The bridegroom's parents were in attendance at the ceremony.

For her marriage Miss Chamberlain selected a gown of white starched marquisette made with a square neckline formed of Chantilly lace. The same lace made several insertion bands in the full skirt, and the long formal train. Her virgin style veil ended in a long train. It was attached to an illusion headpiece of handrolled flowers and pearl ornaments creating a low tiara effect.

Miss Chamberlain carried a colonial shawl bouquet of gardenias, stephanotis, and swansonia, and wore a diamond and pearl sunburst necklace which had belonged to her grandmother Adams.

The bride and bridegroom both attended DePauw university. Miss Chamberlain was a member of Alpha Phi there, while Mr. Haupt belonged to Sigma Nu. She has been employed as a librarian at the Mansfield Public Library here, while he is employed by the Ball-Bond company at Mishawaka. Upon their return from a trip to the Smokey mountains the couple will make their home in the Indiana community. The marriage of the unattached couple was witnessed by members of the immediate families only.

Out-Door Entertaining Has Top Position On Calendar

JULY marks the middle of the summer season, and the time when the attention of most Mansfielders is focused alternately on the travel bulletins and vacation plans, and the picnic basket and the vacuum jug. With this being the week of Independence Day there is little enough excitement, but the remainder of the month has some entertainment to offer.

Beginning with July 8 which will be an important date to those in patriotic circles there will be enough of interest to carry most of us stick-at-homes nicely through the season. Next Monday evening members of the Mary B. Mitchell Tent No. 40, Daughters of Union Veterans will entertain with a party celebrating the silver anniversary of the organization. The affair, which is invitational, will be held at the Memorial building at 8 p. m.

Although the Dolly Madison club is by no stretch of the imagination a frivolous organization, the members are going to have their annual picnic July 9 at the Guy Stewart cabin at Millin lake.

July 13 has been selected by the Western Reserve Alumnae association for a picnic to be attended by members and guests at Brookside park in Ashland, while members of the Joan of Arc Study club are planning a covered-dish dinner to be held at North Lake park July 18.

Members of the Mansfield Junior Sorority will picnic July 24, with complete plans to be announced later by Mrs. William Hauserman, chairman, and the same evening the Republican Women's council and the John Sherman club will have a joint family picnic at South park at 6 o'clock.

Charles Swank, Mrs. Kenneth Whitman, hostesses.

Woodville Social club—Mrs. Minnie Pipes, South Main street road, hostess.

SATURDAY
Hartford circle, United Brethren church—Mrs. Ruby Hassinger, 105½ South Franklin avenue, hostess.

What's that old saw about giving a dog a bad name and you'll hang him? That seems to have been the case with the mother-in-law—that reliable household standby.

That dreadful name, the butt of stupid jests, seems to have settled an important family relationship in advance. A splendid idea, that—of mother-in-laws getting together for an agreeable social roundup once a year in New York, and, while they were about it, giving themselves a new name.

"Adjustment" seems to have been the word which has greeted the happy magic of the older and younger generation getting along together, even if they have to live under one roof. A sensible girl, doesn't go into the new home with a chip on her shoulder. And a mother-in-law sensibly kisses goodbye to the way things were done in her day.

If there are children in the family, and a mother-in-law has successfully reared seven of her own, she never mentions how the miracle came about, unless urged to do so by her daughter-in-law.

The mother-in-law role is harder than that of the wife; she knows if she doesn't make all the bases, she is more than likely to lose the love of her own children.

The truly tragic figure of an in-law is he or she who must share an unwelcome roof with son or daughter. The case is particularly cruel when these old parents, often at the repeated insistence of their children, sell their own homes, their household goods, and dispose of whatever little assets they may have, to come to live with their children, only to find themselves regarded as a burden.

beyond the branch spread. Topsoil can then be spread over the gravel as a soil blanket on which to grow grass. This layer of soil, however, should be kept at least 15 inches away from the tree trunk.

When the fill about a tree is more than a foot deep, a well should be built around the tree's trunk, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The well should be as large as possible in diameter in order to permit air to circulate about the trunk of the tree. In a few years the roots of the tree will come to the surface and then it will be possible to fill the well with soil up to the desired grade level.

Without question this is the greatest scoop purchase that we have made in years. Luscious, rich looking "Crown-Tested" spun-rayon dress frocks beautifully tailored in the most exquisite patterns we have ever presented.

CROCHETED DOILIES

You can make these doilies—suitable for tray cloths, bread trays, tables, luncheon sets—each in two different sizes depending on the thread you use. Pattern 2591 contains directions for making doilies; illustrations of them and stitches; materials required.

Send ten cents in coin for this pattern to The Mansfield News-Journal Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly Pattern Number, your Name and Address.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

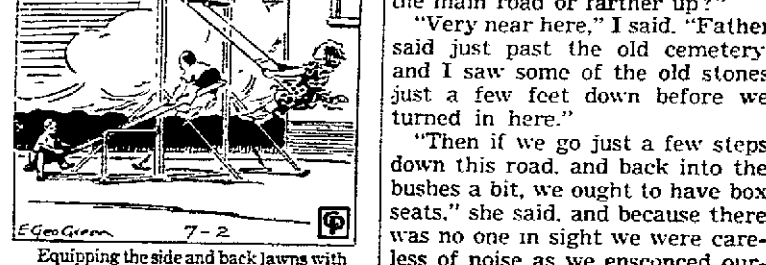

"IT WILL probably need a fender job, too," Lillian commented grimly as she wriggled back to the rear of the station wagon and prepared to guide me while I should back the car into the narrow wood path leading from the deserted road where my father's men were to meet Jack Leslie's gangsters.

"Better get this pretty far back," she said. "You can go forward all right, anywhere that you've backed it in, and you might as well make a sure job while you're at it. Somebody on the other side might think of this too, and even if they don't it won't be a bad idea to bottle up this path, so nobody can dash in here and get away."

"As always, you're right," I told Lillian.

"Keep the old chin up!" Lillian admonished me, with the hint of laughter in her voice which always heartens me. "We can rest a minute when we finally get this baby parked where we want her."

"The Authority on Authorities"

COVERING ALL CHANGES

Suppose you are playing a small slam contract, that when the dummy goes down you can see only ten positive tricks, that there is not a solitary finesse you can try to get the extras, that your only possible way to find extra tricks is through an even break of the missing cards in some four-card suit. If the opponents have led a suit in which you have no chance to build extra tricks, your best move is to let them have the first one and then embark upon an effort to find even breaks. If you don't find two of them, you still may squeeze the enemy and get your other two tricks that way, whereas if you take the first trick you may be hopelessly sunk.

East, figuring North would have bid diamonds on his second turn over the clubs, if he had that suit, guessed it to be his partner's suit and led the J to it. If North had used dummy's A, he would have been set, but he let East win and took the second diamond, after plenty of study.

First he tried for a club break, but the third trick showed East holding four. He then took three high spades, being overjoyed at this suit breaking. When he then laid down the last, he felt sure he was home. He was. East in order to guard dummy's club, had to toss off a heart, so four hearts gained the contract. If East had thrown the club, the dummy would have pitched away a heart and finished with three hearts and a club.

Even if West had the four hearts, the contract would have been safe. In that case, West would have had to discard his only remaining diamond, making North's 8 good. Thus, though only one of the three suits broke, North had two more chances for his contract.

Play through the hand yourself and note how easily the opponents could have discarded if declarer had taken the first diamond trick.

OFF WITH THEIR HEADS

This is the time of year to plan for next year's Spring blooms by removing spent blooms of early flowering shrubs and bulbs. In other words, "Off with their heads" if you would have lovely flowers next year.

As shown in today's Garden-

Graph, when removing faded blooms of narcissi, tulips or early iris, do not cut off any of the foliage and very little of the flower stem.

Dried flower heads of such shrubs as lilac, rhododendron, mountain laurel and azalea should also be removed. The idea is to save the plant's energy and thus promote better growth for next year. When removing flower heads from shrubs care should be taken to avoid injury to the new shoots that start close at the base of the old blooms. The wilted clusters of roses also should be removed from the climbing roses.

NEW INDUSTRY.

One of the newest industries of the south converts the lowly sweet potato into superior white starch. The new factory utilizes the 20 per cent of the "culls" formerly considered unfit for consumption.

But a modicum of business advancement may be looked for on this day, according to the rather weak planetary configurations. There may be just a fair degree of routine work and attempt to cooperate with employers or superiors, the interests being mainly centered, if at all in workaday matters, on curious plans and schemes.

Those whose birthday it is may expect but a moderately active year, with affairs moving in accustomed grooves, without much excitement. However, there may be pitfalls, duplicity or secret involvements liable to culminate in sorrow and defeat. But should the attention be directed to making these secret agreements or intrigues with persons of responsibility there might be lucrative, worthy and hidden joys in final denouements.

A child born on this day may be slow, cautious, with deep undercurrents making it difficult to appraise. While given to secrecy, strategem, and expediency some of such hidden springs may have lofty, even mystical or spiritual motives.

CHAPTER XV

This categorical statement is not taken from a chamber of commerce folder (although it might be) but is the crystallized opinion of some millions of people who have seen it since Cardenas discovered it four centuries ago. Thus it is only fair to expect that presidents of the United States, on combined vacation and political junkies, should have their special trains routed by the canyon rim. Furthermore, it is only natural that every good old backwoods boy and girl, man and woman, paleface and Indian, in northern Arizona and southern Utah would be at the canyon to get a glimpse of the nation's head man.

Most of them were there today, night enough.

Before dawn yesterday wagons of Indians had begun rolling in; their camps even now sent up blue smoke, and their papooses scurried about the village area marveled at the railroad train, posing for snapshots when bribed with candy and nickels, staring big-eyed at pale-face kids who went a step further in rudeness and pointed excited fingers back at them. Cow-boys in holiday mood clicked around with high-heeled boots and wore their gaudiest chaparrals which, however, colorful, could not conceal bowed legs, and their most expensive silk shirts, which were reserved for such state occasions as presidents, court trails and to-dos. The state militia had a company of important-looking young men there under guns and uniforms, and the county sheriff had his deputies at hand to back up the federal secret service which always travels below, with and after the president's train. Finally, there was a typically western melange of lumberjacks, forest rangers, farmers city and town, business men, school children and tourists from east and west.

The president's special was due at 10 in the morning, but Rosemary, and Sue, Monty Montgomery, Mr. McKee and Bob King motored to the parking space at the Canyon edge before 8 o'clock.

Immediately people began looking at Rosemary and Sue. It was inevitable, because these two girls had selected the Summit Trading Post's prettiest western costumes and if there were two prettier misses in Arizona this morning they did not show themselves. Three newspaper men spotted them immediately, interviewed them (to the girls' laughing embarrassment) about everything and nothing in particular, and posed them for photographs, against the grandeur of the canyon. Eventually, the eastern dailies and Sunday tabloids' sections carried larger prints of Sue and Rosemary, "hostesses to the president at the Grand Canyon," than they carried of the president, there himself. Larger prints, and prettier ones.

When the special rolled in and Mr. President showed himself at once on the rear platform, a spontaneous cheer of welcome reverberated through the great trees around them. A great deal of the time Monty and Mr. McKee couldn't keep up, or at least did not try to.

"Let's barge right up and meet him, huh?" Bob suggested, on sudden impulse.

"The president?" Rosemary exclaimed. "Oh, no!"

"Sure! Come on!"

"Lordy, Bob, what'll we do?" Sue demanded. "Curtsy, or say 'Your Excellency' or —?"

"Gosh, now! Just say 'God do you do, Mr. President?' He's just a man. 'This is the United States.' They did it."
